Integration Mind integrates Netbilling and Playboy.

Playboy's Cyberclub and Adult.com websites were integrated with Netbilling's billing gateway option in order to provide Trustcash with an alternative form of payment.

This form would integrate the custom Trustcash code system with Netbilling and allow rebilling of all clients as well as open up the possibility of utilizing Netbilling's fraud and support system.

This integration took Integration Mind over two months complete with lots of testing between Playboy's team and Integration Mind. One of the main requests which took the most time to develop was the integration of this new billing option into Playboy's customer support system.

This meant that this integration would require postback of all user/passwords as well as client IDs to be passed from Trustcash into the PBS system as well as allow Playboy's support team to change usernames and passwords and pass this information back to the Trustcash servers and change in Netbilling's backend in order that all changes are in Sync.
